

This book has been compiled by Institute of Law and Environmental Governance (ILEG) to detail all institutions that are in one way or another handling the effects of Climate Change. The book has briefs on organizations that seek to generate information about vulnerability, risks and uncertainties as well as communicate robust recommendations that can help to integrate Climate Change and mitigation into risk management and development.